

Dear FCC Members,

I ask that you deny the CBA's petition to weaken the Indiana Telephone privacy law. The members of this group already fill our mailboxes with offers. They offer many services and operate under many names that they will use to harass their customers. As a consumer, it will be very hard to distinguish whether these subsidiary companies are part of these banking conglomerates to register a complaint. We have enjoyed peace of mind knowing that when we answer our phone it is a call we wish to receive. They telemarketing industry does not care about our privacy and rights to have a phone in our home that is used for our purposes not theirs. When my husband and I decided to have a phone in our home, our intent was for us to be able to communicate with family, friends, and business of our choice.

I respectfully ask that you deny proceeding 02-278

Sincerely,
Julie M. Priest
